Status LED

Solid status LED light indicates your tracker is fully operational. Flashing status LED indicates device is establishing a connection.

Direction

Align the arrow with the front of the vehicle.

If you just installed the tracker, it may take up to 15 minutes to establish an initial GPS fix. If you take your vehicle for a drive, it will allow it to establish a GPS satellite fix faster.

Troubleshooting

If the status LED is not lighting up, double check the connections on the battery terminals and ensure they are screwed on tightly.

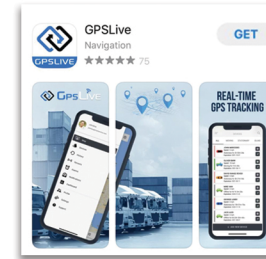

If after 15 minutes your device doesn't appear online on GPSTLive and the status LED is still flashing, ensure your vehicle is outside and not under any major infrastructures which could block GPS and GSM signals.

Resetting the device: Disconnect the two wires from the battery terminals and let the device sit until the backup battery has been drained (2-3 hrs). Once the status LED has stopped flashing, you can reconnect the device.

If you're still having issues, please contact our support team on the details at the bottom of the user guide.
